Next week we recognise Mrs Callaghan, Mrs Hardcastle, Mrs Obern, Mrs Auton, Mrs Mulvena, Mrs Jones, Ms Susko, Mrs Skinstad, Mr Femia, Mr Vella, Mrs Lynch, Mrs Jerman, Mrs Chandler, Mrs Pellegrini, Mrs Daddo, Miss Hilton, Miss Irish, Mrs Gay, Miss Riad, Mr Panesar, Miss McIntyre, Mr Hopley and Miss Sutton for the contribution they make for the students at our school.

In the Home Learning Units for next week there is the opportunity for students to make cards of appreciation for the office staff and the school learning and support officers. The students are welcome to email balgowlah-t-p.schools.nsw.gov.au photos of their cards or have the cards placed in the school letterbox.

Wellbeing Day

On Wednesday (25.08.21) of next week we will be holding a Wellbeing Day. This will involve the students undertaking a range of activities including exercise, mindfulness, household tasks and gratitude activities.

One of the goals of the day is to reduce screen time. Teachers will be off-line. They will spend the day planning for upcoming weeks, providing feedback on prior learning as well as engaging in some Wellbeing activities of their own. There will be no class Zoom sessions and teachers won't be available on Google classroom or Seesaw Class on this day. Grade Zoom meetings will occur as planned.

Home Learning

We want to thank all the families who are supporting our community by keeping their children at home, learning from home, to minimise movement in the community. As always, our school will be open with minimal supervision to support those students who cannot be educated from home, for example if their parent or carer is an essential worker. All students and families will be supported with learning from home materials and resources provided by your teacher.

If you are working from home, and your child is able to be educated from home, please keep your child at home.

Student Leader's Message

Hello Balgowlah Heights! Welcome to Week 6 of lockdown. I'm sure you are all thriving in lockdown and approaching every day with a positive mindset. Just a quick reminder to make sure you are thanking your teachers for all the hard work they put in behind the scenes - we are so privileged to have such a dedicated staff team and they deserve our recognition. We are doing so well in lockdown - 8 weeks already! Give yourselves a pat on the back.

Despite the list of negatives that come along with lockdown, this is actually a great time to get creative with your hobbies and try something new! From cooking to sewing to drawing to skateboarding and so much more, this is an excellent opportunity to experiment with a new hobby. You never know where it might take you! Last but not least, did you know that if you look 20 metres away every 20 minutes when you are in front of a screen and blink 20 times, it helps prevent your eyes from being damaged by your screen? Try it out! Happy lockdown-ing and I hope to see you all back at school soon!

Band Online – Crazy Hat (or sunnies) Day

After some 'serious' learning our Concert Band members donned their craziest hats and sunnies to pose for a photo of them participating in band online.

While we would always prefer to be physically together, the band online sessions are proving to be useful to keep the band members playing their instruments and connecting online. Like any physical activity it is important that musicians play their instruments regularly to keep their muscles and music memory in good condition. It is very easy to lose muscle strength, finger dexterity and music knowledge so these online sessions are valuable for maintaining these important skills. Reminder though, that you still need to do your own practice during the week too!

Thank you for attending these sessions – it's great to see you online. Thanks also to the parents who help facilitate their child's attendance.

Week 5 and 6 Wellbeing and PBL Focus

This fortnight's focus is Positive Attitude towards Challenges

We are learning to have a positive attitude towards challenges.

Week 7 and 8 Wellbeing and PBL Focus

This fortnight's focus is Gratitude

We are learning to be grateful for our learning experiences and those who are helping us.

Wellbeing Corner

Gratitude is the quality of being thankful: readiness to show appreciation for and return kindness. Research has shown that gratitude is associated with good physical and mental health; it increases positive emotions and combats negative bias.

Next week at BHPS we will focus on wellbeing and students will participate in activities related to gratitude. We hope you embrace some of these as a family. We have opportunities to demonstrate gratitude, modelling behaviours to our children. Take a moment in your week to recognise a colleague, friend, relative, teacher or your child for their contribution to you and your family. Acknowledging and sharing positive qualities in someone or recognising something they did builds relationships, connection and has wellbeing benefits for you as well as them. It can be as simple as a note, email, phone call or card.

Here are some useful links you may wish to explore related to negative bias and gratitude:

THINGS to REMEMBER

Some people get stuck in the negative and find it difficult to shift their thoughts. It happens with children too. Everyone has the tendency to pay more attention to negative things -this phenomenon is called negativity bias. It's powerful and can affect work, friendships, learning, and even health.

The good news is that you CAN help your children (and yourself) to tip the scale and shift attention to things that are working well. When you feel like you or your child get 'stuck' feeling discouraged, use 'Things to Remember' (above) to help find a more helpful thought.

Here is a valuable link to COVID-19 Parenting resources from Northern Sydney Health that has numerous links to articles, contacts, books and websites that I know you will find informative.

Thank you for supporting our whole BHPS staff team and your children in their learning journey. I look forward to hearing stories of gratitude and its impact from our BHPS community in the weeks ahead.

Library News | Week 6

Hello Readers,

This week is National Science Week and you will be undertaking some great activities set by your science teachers this week. The Royal Botanic Gardens website and the Sydney Science Trail is offering online events.

Next week 21 –27 August is BOOK WEEK. The theme is OLD WORLDS, NEW WORLDS, OTHER WORLDS.

Use your imagination to dress up as your favourite book character. It may be related to this year's theme or not, it is up to you. Check your weekly timetable for a Mufti Dress up day via Grade or Class Zoom meetings.

Other great sites you might like to view are www.matt.cosgrovebooks.com for printable Macca the Alpaca costumes.

And now on to the Room on The Broom challenge. Which BHPS families will take up the challenge to reinvent this page? This much loved book by Julia Donaldson lends itself to lots of fun and interpretation through drawing your family on the broom, taking a photograph or video of your family on the broom and uploading to Seesaw for Years K-4 or Google classroom Years 5-6.

See you (virtually) next week for Book Week!

Happy Reading!
